

Gateway Hemophilia Association is once again partnering with the QAS Variety Guild for their annual benefit night. Ticket sales for the 2019 performances open March 10th. This year's production is "It's All in the Delivery" – a musical comedy about a mail carrier who invites the audience along as he finishes out his last days before retirement. You'll be surprised to meet some of his unusual postal patrons and see the bizarre situations he encounters along the way. We hope that you will join us- this show is sure to "deliver" an evening of fun and laughter!
